

MVision Private Equity Advisers acts as exclusive strategic advisor for Goldfinch Partners' acquisition of Vesta

New York, NY, June 4, 2020– MVision Private Equity Advisers, a leading independent international alternative assets advisory firm, is pleased to have served as exclusive strategic advisor to Goldfinch Partners. MVision worked alongside Goldfinch Partners to secure $125 million from a group of global institutional investors to acquire Vesta, a fintech pioneer in fraud protection and payment solutions.

Goldfinch Partners, led by Bill McNichols and Sean Collins, have proven track records as business builders, investors, and operators at leading global companies. Thematic in their approach, Goldfinch focuses on mid-market enterprise technology companies at the forefront of digital transformation. With the support of a diverse set of institutional investors, the transaction offered the opportunity to provide new growth capital to a leading fintech platform to drive global expansion and new product development.

"We were delighted to advise and support Goldfinch through its successful acquisition of a leading business in the fintech space," said Sally Mahloudji, Managing Director at MVision. "Despite the unprecedented economic environment, investors were impressed with Goldfinch's breadth of experience and expertise in payments, and the strength and resiliency of the business."

"MVision did an outstanding job connecting us to co-investors who were willing to deploy risk capital in an exceptionally turbulent market environment. Their unique understanding of our strategy coupled with their relationship network enabled us to rapidly raise the capital required to consummate this transaction," said Bill McNichols.
